

What do Active Communicators do?

Active Communicator

Uses key vocabulary accurately

Active listener who follows instructions

Shows consideration to others

Works in a group and take turns

Uses full sentences to share ideas

Speaks clearly and confidently

Asks questions to get more information

Can talk in different situations

Summarises ideas

Discusses meaning of words

Resolves problems and acts on feedback to improve work

Listens to the ideas of others

What do Creative Thinkers do?

Creative Thinker

Asks and answers questions to help understand learning

Uses imagination

Takes risks and learns from them

Uses different ways to develop as a learner

Creates and develops ideas

Makes links with other learning

Does not give up when it gets difficult

Uses feedback to develop and improve work

Investigates ideas

Adapts and uses learning across the curriculum

Uses prior learning to help with ideas

Willing to explore different ideas

What do Effective Investigators do?

Effective Investigator

Asks and answers questions that helps with learning

Compares different ideas and activities

Actively communicates ideas

Makes suggestions to help with learning

Explores and explains ideas

Investigates and tries to solve problems

Explains choices

Makes the right learning choices

Is curious

Actively listens

Asks relevant questions

Makes predications

What do Independent Learners do?

Independent Learner

Completes simple instructions

Applies knowledge know to help with learning

Accurately uses key vocabulary

Active listener and learner

Uses 5Bs to help with learning

Makes and explains choices

Makes connections when learning

Predicts and explains
solutions

Shares ideas with others

Organises, sequences and explains ideas

Tries to stay focused and works independently

Gives reasons for ideas and answers

What do Information Processors do?

Information Processor

Knows where to find the correct information and use it

Compares and contrasts information

Sorts resources into groups

Uses first-hand information

Explains differences

Uses information to help with learning

Uses sources to answer key questions

Communicates ideas

Knows how to find out more about ideas

Explains the differences between resources, ideas and questions

What do Pro-active Social Thinkers do?

Pro-active Social Thinker

Listens to others without interrupting them

Shares ideas
and resources

Good attitude towards learning

Listens to and follows instructions

Tries to be kind to all

Good role model

Makes friends

Overcomes problems

Active team worker by leading and working with others

Shows respect

Willing to take turns

Follows
instructions

What do Problem Solvers do?

Problem Solver

Thinks of different ways to solve a problem

Explains and checks ideas

Has a go at anything

Identifies and solves problems

Explains how to solve a problem

Perseveres and does not give up

Uses prior knowledge know to help with learning

Asks for help when needed

Tests out ideas

Uses imagination

Determination to finish work

Makes links with learning

What do Reflective Learners do?

Reflective Learner

Able to explain what I have learned to others

Explain what has been achieved and what needs to be developed

Talks about what helps them to learn

Uses feedback to improve work

Explains enjoyment of an activity

Evaluates learning and says how to improve it

Tries something different when encountering a problem

Make changes to work if necessary

Is independent

Expresses views on an activity

Listens to advice from others

Explains
feedback to learning partner

What do Self-Managers do?

Self-Manager

Uses resources independently, explaining choices

Explains feelings

Takes risks to help with how to learn

Perseveres and does not give up

Selects and uses the correct resources

Thinks about making the right behaviour choices

Stays focused and not get distracted

Willing to have a go at something new even if it is hard

Uses the 5Bs of independent

Knows when to ask for help

Works independently for a period of time

Listens to others and respects their views