

I use my senses to explore the world around me.

I show curiosity about objects, events and people.

I am able to engage in open-ended activities.

I pretend objects are things from my experience.

I am able to take on a role in play.

I play with what I know.

I seek challenges.

I show a 'can do' attitude.

Characteristics of Effective Learning Playing and Exploring

I show particular interests.

I engage in different activities.

I am able to find out and explore.

I am able to act out experiences with other people.

I am able to represent my experiences in play.

I am able to initiate activities.

I am able to take a risk, engage in new experiences and learn by trial and error.

I am willing to 'have a go'.